Petition for Cloture Is Filed

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-eight senators filed a petition today to close off the Senate's record filibuster against the House-passed civil rights bill.

The petition to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule was sent to the desk by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and will automatically come to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on Wednesday.

In hopes of winning the two-thirds majority necessary to put the rule into effect, leaders yielded to the demands of a group of Republicans to print the Senate to vote first on some key amendments to the House-passed bill.

Under an agreement nailed down Saturday, debate on these amendments will be limited to four hours each. The votes on them will be taken Tuesday.

All this suggests a possibly decisive turning point in the long legislative battle, now in its 73rd day and 14th week.

With the Senate moving toward a showdown on civil rights, the House will take up Tuesday a $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill. This is the full amount asked by President Johnson in what he termed a "barebones request."

On tap for House action later in the week is a measure to extend for another year beyond June 30 a variety of federal excise taxes imposed during the Korean war. Involved is an estimated $1.9 billion in federal revenues.

Ground Is Broken for DeGray Dam

ARCADEPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., attributed industrial growth in Arkansas to abundant water resources and the sound financial condition of state, county and local governments.

McClellan made the statement as he addressed a crowd of 500 persons attending groundbreaking ceremonies for the $50 million DeGray Dam and reservoir near here.

After his speech McClellan, pressed a detonator setting off a dynamite explosion signifying start of work on the project. Actually work has been underway on it for more than a year.

McClellan called the development of water resources one of the prime factors in attracting industry to Arkansas.

He said industries seeking a new location come to Arkansas and "find our state government, county government and city government in good financial condition, and this, plus abundant water, is the main cause of our progress today."

The industrial world knows Arkansas is rich in natural resources and has an enlightened and awakened people, McClellan said.

He commented briefly on the civil rights bill now before the Senate and termed efforts to invoke the cloture to stop the Southern filibuster, "a great disservice to the nation."

McClellan said he does not intend to surrender in his fight against the bill.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., spoke briefly. He called the groundbreaking one of the most "gratifying" he has known in the 24 years he has served in the House.

"It marks the success of long years of effort to get DeGray Dam accepted as a federal project," he said.

Maj. Gen. Ellsworth I. Davis, lower Mississippi engineer, said "far-sightedness, perseverance, tenacity, and unity of the leaders and citizens" in the area of the dam made the project possible.

Business leaders from a number of south and south central Arkansas communities attended the program.

Clearing of Communist Party O.K'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision overturning conviction of the Communist party of the United States for failure to register under the Internal Security Act.

The refusal leaves the lower court decision standing.

The Supreme Court's action was "announced" in a brief order that gave no reason.

Justice Byron R. White formerly deputy attorney general, took no part in consideration of the case.

The lower court's decision was by a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals here.

The Justice Department had asked the Supreme Court to hear argument in the case and reverse the lower court.

The appeals court held that the government had failed to prove anyone was available to the party who could sign the registration statement without incriminating himself.

Urging reversal of the decision, the government appeal questioned whether party officers may refuse to register for the party "when they cannot possibly incriminate themselves because the statute prohibits

W. E. Bruner, B.-I. Founder, Dies at 95

William Edgar Bruner, aged 95 of Hope, died Saturday night, June 6, at a local hospital. For the past 5 years he has made his home with a granddaughter, Mrs. Talbot Feild, Jr., and Mr. Feild. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Bruner was born on June 21, 1868, in Edwards County, Illinois. In 1888 he started in the handle business in Cora, Missouri. He moved his business to Almyra, Arkansas, before 1900. From there he moved to Cotton Plant, and then as W.E. Bruner and Sons moved to Heber Springs. In 1930 they bought out the Ivory Handle Company of Hope, and founded the Bruner Ivory Handle Company in Hope.

Survivors include a son, Wilbur Carl Bruner of Hope, 19 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Gordon S. Kling of Crystal Lake, Illinois, and Rev. B.J. Willhite at the First Assembly of God Church in Hope at 2 p.m. on Monday.

Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery by Herndon Cornelius. Pallbearers will be grandsons, W.C. Bruner, Jr., Talbot Feild, Jr., T.C. Cranford, Barry Spraggins, and Hendrix Spraggins of Hope; Richard Bruner of Dallas; Jack Bruner of Texarkana; and Bill Bayse of Akron, Ohio.

The Bruner Ivory Company will be closed all day Monday.

"An Institute in Economic Education and the American Way of Life" was held at Ouachita Baptist College two days last week and was attended by Mrs. John Vesey and Mrs. Roy Allison of Hope High School and G. Cook of Hope Junior High School.

Dr. Ewing P. Shahan, Professor of Economics and Business Administration and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Vanderbilt University, was the Conference's consultant. He presented the background and environments that have brought about the forms of socialism, capitalism, and communism that we know today. Basic information so necessary in today's complex world was presented, and the educators attending learned how to make economic ideologies more understandable to their students.

Pilot Downed in Laos Is Recovered

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos, (AP) — Communist groundfire knocked down the second U.S. Navy jet in two days over Laos Sunday, but the pilot was safely lifted out of the red-held jungle.

U.S. officials hoped to continue an air search today for the pilot of the first plane but a heavy cloud cover hung over Vientiane. The monsoon season has set in.

Both planes were shot down east of the Plaine des Jarres area, recently overrun by the Pathet Lao. Both were Crusader jets capable of 1,800 miles an hour. They were operating from the carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea.

The second jet was armed and accompanying an unarmed reconnaissance plane over central Laos. The United States has been conducting photographic flights over Communist positions since May 17 at the request of the Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The pilot, Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., was rescued by a U.S. helicopter.

Gunfire in Amarillo Is Fatal to 2

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A midnight exchange of gunfire at speeds up to 85 miles an hour along city streets killed a patrolman and a 14-year-old boy riding in a stolen pickup, police said.

A 15-year-old boy was wounded.

Asst. Police Chief Jim Keith said the two boys, armed with a shotgun and a rifle, started blazing away when the patrolman, William Meadows, 23, gave pursuit.

As Meadows sped across an overpass, a slug smashed through the windshield into his forehead. His cruiser bounced to a halt against guard rails. He died later in a hospital.

State highway patrolmen had heard the radio communications and fell in behind the pickup riddling the rear with bullets. Shots hit their car and two other city cruisers that had joined the chase.

Ten miles later, tires punctured, the pickup slammed into a ditch.

Jimmy May was dead of three wounds in the back and neck. Felix Fesmire, 15, identified as the driver, was shot but not seriously wounded in the shoulder.

Keith said officers did not know the boy's ages at the time of the shooting.

He said the pair had left Boys Ranch, a welfare organization which often cares for orphans and delinquents, earlier in the day. Police were investigating the possibility the pair may have robbed a farm family and shot a cowboy.

The Clyde Kohler family reported two boys held them up Sunday night and stole their pickup.

Kohler said the pair cut their telephone wire, took some ammunition and left after saying they had shot a man earlier.

Headquarters of the LIT Ranch reported one of their cowboys did not return from a hunting trip.

Pine Seedling Subject of Nevada Meet

Improving the woods for increased growth, pine seedling and providing range grazing is to be the subject of a workshop for farmers and woodland owners Tuesday afternoon, June 9 in Nevada County according to George F. Brown of the local Soil Conservation Service.

The meeting is to be sponsored by the Nevada County Soil and Water Conservation District and the Ozan Lumber Company will be held in the Suckle Lake Area, 6 miles north of Prescott, and will commence there at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The main feature of the meeting is a "Mist Blowing" machine used by the M.L. Sigmon Forest Products, Inc. on the woodlands of the Ozan Lumber Company. Although the "mist blower" is being used primarily to deaden brush that is competing with pine, it is also of value in increasing the native grasses for woodland range. Ivan Porter, Range Conservationist and Max Bolger, Woodland Conservationist, both of the Soil Conservation Service will hold a discussion on how farmers and woodland owners can improve their woodland for woodland range grazing.

Russell Moberg, Forester with Ozan Lumber Company, and Glen Cooper, Forester with the M.L. Sigmon Company, will also discuss woodland improvement methods. Other tools and implements used to control woody plants and brush will be shown.

Farmers, cattlemen, and woodland owners interested in attending the workshop are asked to join the group in front of the Chamber of Commerce Office at 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 9. The group will leave at Prescott at 1:30 p.m. for the Workshop location north of town according to George Brown.

He is a veteran of World War II, and a past post and district commander of the American Legion; he is a member of the State Geological Commission, a Baptist, a Mason, and active in civic and religious affairs.

Fear of Big Government Hit by LBJ

By FRANK CORMIER

SWARTIMORE, Pa. (AP)—President Johnson scoffed today at those who call the federal government "a major menace to individual liberty."

At the same time he appealed to college graduates of 1964 not to "feel alien to this world they are preparing to enter."

By some definitions, Johnson's message appeared to be aimed, on the one hand, at those who share the political philosophy of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and, on the other, at the college-educated segment of "the beat generation."

In his address, prepared for commencement exercises at Swarthmore College, Johnson said: "Let us not call forth phantom fears about what the future holds."

Continuing, he said, "One of those fears is that the federal government has become a major menace to individual liberty."

"This," he asserted, "is not so."

The chief executive went on to ask a series of rhetorical questions, all of them obviously intended to be answered in the negative:

"Does government subvert our freedom through the social security system?"

"Does government undermine our freedom by bringing electricity to the farm by controlling floods—or by ending bank time."

Catholics in Saigon Stage Riot Protest

By RO YESOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of Vietnamese Roman Catholics demonstrated for three hours in downtown Saigon Sunday, threatening the embattled country with new religious-political turmoil.

Many demonstrators carried banners denouncing U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, although organizers of the rally said the anti-Lodge banners were not authorized.

Other banners called Buddhism an ally of communism. A few placards thanked the United States for its aid in the fight against Communist guerrillas.

The anti-Lodge demonstrators accused the ambassador of supporting the Buddhists in their campaign against President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime, which was overthrown last Nov. 21. Diem, his family and many of his leading officials were Roman Catholics and the church had a favored position under his regime.

The demonstration brought out an estimated 40,000 persons on the morning after the sentencing of a Catholic army officer whose troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators in Hue last year. Eight persons died in the clash, which set off the Buddhist campaign against Diem.

Maj. Dang Sy, 37, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Some Catholics think he is being offered as a scapegoat to South Viet Nam's Buddhist majority.

Most of the demonstrators assembled in a square before the U.S. Information Agency building and a U.S. officers' mess. Some had come 25 miles on foot from a Catholic resettlement area for refugees from Communist North Viet Nam. The resettlement area is a stronghold of anti-government sentiment.

A small group broke away and tried to pull down a memorial plaque to President John F. Kennedy. The square, in front of failures?

"Is freedom lessened by efforts to abate pollution in our streams — or by efforts to strengthen competition in the free market?"

"Is freedom diminished by banning the sale of harmful drugs — by providing school lunches for our children — by preserving our wilderness areas — or by improving the safety of our airways?"

Johnson saved for last civil rights, a subject he has mentioned in every address he has made this year.

"Is freedom betrayed when in 1964 we redeem in full the pledge made a century ago by the Emancipation Proclamation?"

The President said that "far from crushing the individual, government at its best liberates him from the enslaving forces of his environment."

Alluding again to the civil rights issue, he said, "This government is fighting to free 20 million Americans whose rights and whose hopes have been damned because they were born with dark skin."

He went on to couple the civil rights issue with his antipoverty program, saying, "We are determined to wage unconditional war against the poverty that keeps one-fifth of our people in economic bondage."

Saigon's Catholic cathedral, was renamed John F. Kennedy Square on May 30.

"This is holy ground in front of the cathedral," said a demonstrator. "We object to having it renamed after a politician."

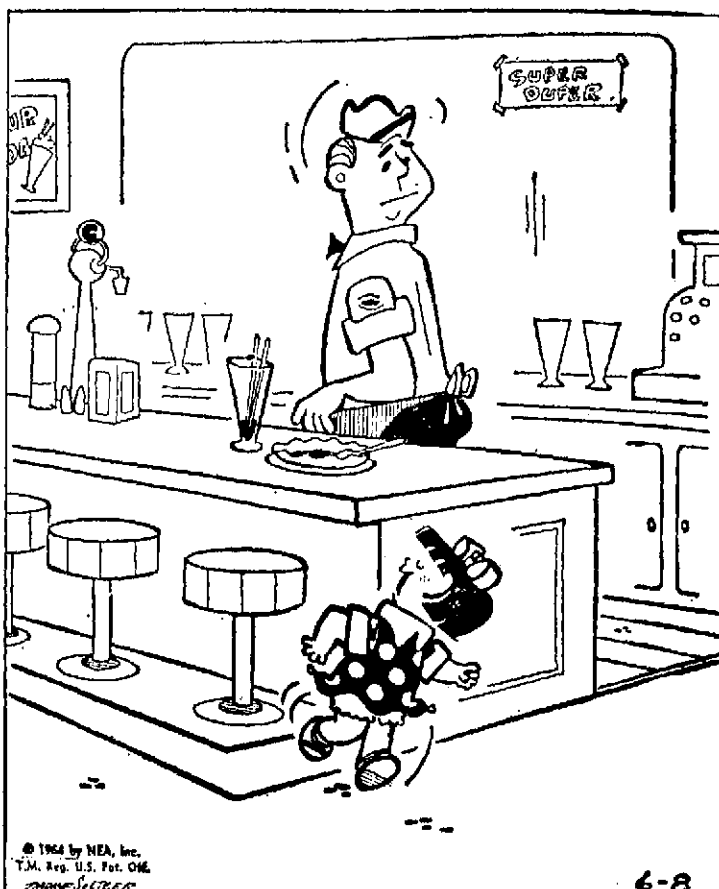

Some Vietnamese Catholics blame the Kennedy administration for Diem's overthrow.

A pamphlet distributed at the rally charged that Lodge "exploited the so-called repression of Buddhists last year to overthrow the old regime. Now he is fomenting religious discrimination to create a new regime subservient to his own personal aims."

Some banners said: "Go home Cabot Lodge."

any information obtained by registration from being introduced in evidence in a judicial proceeding.

Anyway, the appeal said, "no new leads to other information can result (from registration) since party officials have publicly stated their positions."

Further, the appeal stated "there is not the slightest reason to reject in this case the ordinary rule that an organization can find attorneys or other agents to act for it."

The party had been fined $120,000 for failing to list with the Justice Department the names of its officers and members, the amount and sources of its income, the amount and purposes of its expenditures, and the location of its printing presses. The fine was set aside by the court of appeals decision.

The listing was required when an order by the Subversive Activities Control Board against the party became final in 1961.

The order was upheld by the Supreme Court when it upheld constitutionality of the Registration Act. The high court did not rule, however, on what the consequences would be if the party failed to register.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its denial of a jury trial to former Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and his successor, Paul B. Johnson on criminal contempt charges filed against them in the James H. Meredith case.

Barnett and Johnson were charged with contempt on the ground they refused to obey orders of the U.S. Circuit Court and flown back to the Kitty Hawk, an embassy spokesman said.

U.S. officials gave no details of the jungle rescue, but it was unofficially reported that several helicopters had been badly shot up in an attempt to find the other pilot, Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif.

Klusmann was on a reconnaissance flight when his plane was hit. He was reported to have parachuted safely, but his exact landing spot in the rugged, isolated terrain apparently was not known.

Red China charged that U.S. jet fighters fired two rockets at Khang Khay, Pathet Lao headquarters on the Plaine des Jarres. There was no mention of damage or casualties.

Reliable sources in Vientiane said Laotian air force T28 fighter-bombers armed with machine guns are providing cover for the U.S. reconnaissance Premier Souvanna Phouma's neutralist government ordered the protection after consultations with U.S. Embassy officials in the wake of the loss of the two American planes.

In Washington, the State Department said the reconnaissance flights would be continued in New Orleans not to interfere with admission of Meredith, a Negro to the University of Mississippi in 1962.

Meredith entered the university amid rioting that caused President Kennedy to send in federal troops. Meredith since was graduated.

The Supreme Court split 5-4 in ruling April 6 against claims by Barnett and Johnson that they were entitled to a jury trial. The decision left Barnett and Johnson subject to trial by the judges of the New Orleans Circuit Court.

Joe T. Patterson, Mississippi attorney general, in a petition to the Supreme Court asked reconsideration and a final ruling that the contempt charges be tried before a jury in U.S. District Court in Mississippi.

U.S. Fighters Ordered to Fire on Reds jet fighter planes operating over Laos were reported today to have orders to fire on Communist military installations when necessary to protect unarmed photo reconnaissance aircraft.

Two U.S. planes have been shot down in two days by ground fire from Communist forces. Officials here said their reports indicated this was fire from automatic aircraft guns and perhaps heavy machine guns.

The operation of the armed escort jets over Red held areas of Laos indicates the United States is becoming more deeply involved in the conflict there in its efforts to give assistance to the neutralist government of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Red Pathet Lao troops recently drove neutralist troops from the Plaine des Jarres.

The decision, evidently made at the end of last week, to send fighter escorts with the photo planes, appears also to be part of the developing U.S. policy of increasing resistance to Communist offensives in Southeast Asia.

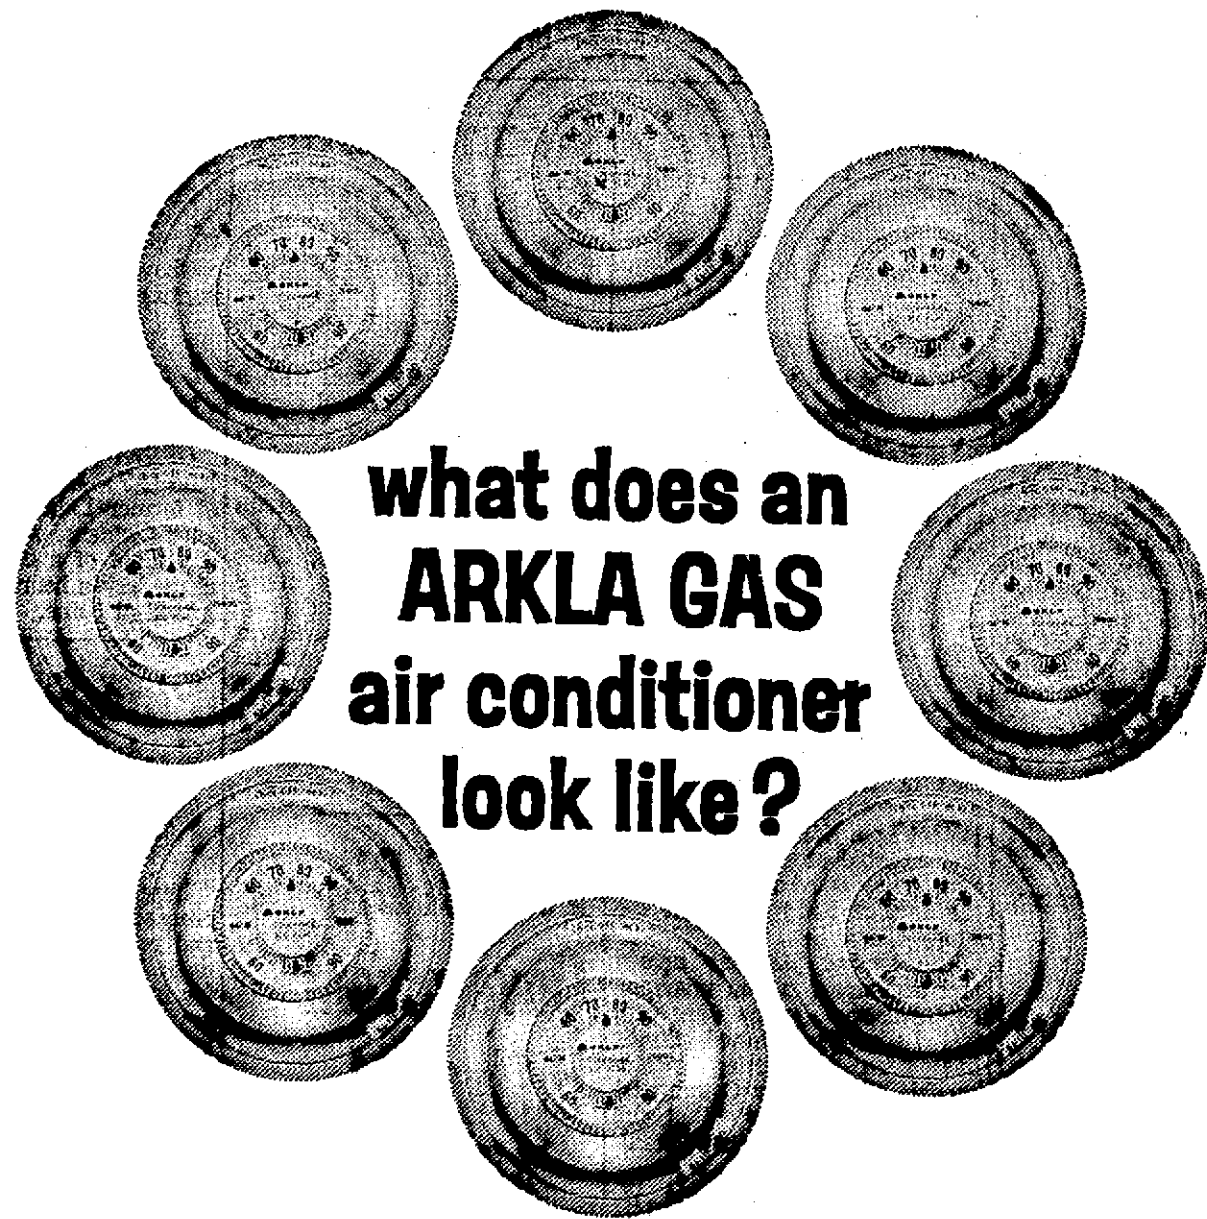

readings ranged from 73 at Memphis to 64 at Fort Smith.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts rain totaling one-half inch to one inch during showers most numerous at mid-week.

air conditioner
look like?

It really doesn't matter. What counts most is the tremendous cooling and heating performance it delivers.

Arkla-Servel All-Year*Gas Air Conditioning cools and heats at lower cost, needs little maintenance, and lasts the length of an average home mortgage.

What's inside counts, too. Arkla Gas Air Conditioning cools and heats on an absorption principle... No noisy, expensive compressor to wear out and replace. There are no moving parts in the cooling and heating cycle, so there's nothing to wear out.

What does an Arkla Gas Air Conditioner look like? As a matter of fact, it's a handsomely-designed, compact steel package that fits neatly in a closet area, in the attic, outside, or in a basement. Capacity ranges from 2 3/4 tons to 6 1/2 tons.

year Tuesday morning June 9 with a brunch at the Heritage House beginning at 10 a.m.

Reception for New Pastor

Following the evening worship service at the First Methodist Church on Sunday, June 7, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall to meet the new pastor and his family, the Rev. and Mrs. R.B. Moore, Jr., Jim, Mary Frances, and Bob, III.

Receiving with the Moores were the Rev. and Mrs. J.D. Montgomery, Mrs. Roy Bagley, and Mrs. C.V. Nunn. The serving table was centered with a lovely arrangement of daisies. Mrs. F.C. Crow poured the fruit punch and assorted cookies were also served to about 150.

Afternoon Party for Bride-elect

An informal afternoon party was given Friday, June 5 for Miss Sharon Foster, bride-elect of Lee Bowman of McGhee in the home of Mrs. John B. Lowe with Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr., co-hostess. Daisies and roses were used as decorations in the home.

The group enjoyed pleasant conversation and made rice bags to be distributed at the Foster-Bowman wedding the next day. The hostesses presented Miss Foster a blue garter to be worn at her wedding. Assorted snacks and cold drinks were served to 15 from a coffee table centered with a bouquet of daisies.

Those present were the honoree, her aunts, Mrs. Cecil Wyatt and Miss Martha Waddle, her mother, Mrs. Vincent Foster, Miss Cherry Singleton of Tulsa, Mrs. Robert Whitfield of Fayetteville, Miss Rosamond Sample of El Dorado, Miss Sherrice Hanks, Miss Julia Peck, Mrs. John R. Graves, Miss Jeannie Lowe, Mrs. John Hamilton, and the hostesses.

Foster-Bowman Wedding Rehearsal

Following the Foster-Bowman wedding rehearsal Friday night, June 5, Sam Bowman of McGhee, father of the bride-groom elect, entertained members of the wedding party with a dinner at the Heritage House. Miss Sharon Foster, bride-elect, wore a black and white print and pinned red rosebuds at her shoulder.

She, her fiancé, Lee Bowman of McGhee, and other guests were served from a table centered with white carnations, gladioli, and daisies. Covers were laid for 33.

Bridesmaids Luncheon

The Heritage House was the setting for a Bridesmaids Luncheon on Saturday, June 6 for Miss Sharon Foster and the women in her wedding. Miss Foster wore yellow linen and had a corsage of daisies.

Majestic daisies and white gladioli centered the table where the three-course luncheon was served to 16. The honoree's place was marked with a gift from the hostess, Mrs. Talbot Feild, Jr. At this time Miss Foster presented gifts to those in the wedding party.

The guest list included the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Vincent Foster, Mrs. Winston Sloan of Fayetteville, Mrs. Beryl Anthony, Jr. of Little Rock, Miss Cherry Singleton of Magnolia, Mrs. William Hair of Springdale, Miss Rosamond Sample of El Dorado, Miss Sandra Oley of Memphis, Mrs. W.C. Bruner, Jr. and Miss Julia Peck of Hope, Mrs. John Sikes of Forrest City, Mrs. D.W. Bowman and Mrs. Charles Griffith of Eudora, Mrs. Charles Orth of Little Rock, and Mrs. Mark Jones and Mrs. Ross Shadinger of Minneapolis.

Bachelor Breakfast

A Bachelor Breakfast for Lee Bowman and the men in his wedding was held Saturday morning, June 6 at the Heritage House with Sam Bowman of McGhee, father of the bridegroom elect, as host. At the informal gathering of 15, the future bridegroom presented gifts to members of the wedding.

Those attending included Vincent Foster, father of the bride-elect, Vince Foster, Winston Sloan of Fayetteville, Bill Hair of Springdale, Dennis Padden and David Watkins of Hope, Larry White of Kirkwood, Mo., Robert Whitfield of Fayetteville, James Smith of Muskogee, Okla., Beryl Anthony, Jr. of Little Rock, Charles Griffith and D.W. Bowman of Eudora, and John Sikes of Forrest City.

Girls State Delegates

A Girls State Party was given for this year's delegates, Margie Herndon, Cissy Ellis, Mary Ann Bader, Myrtle Cox, Karen Cobb, Kathy Thrash, Poleda Glanton, Sharon Frith, Linda O'Steen, Betty Monroe, Virginia Edwards, and Betty Schenck, on Friday morning, June 5 in the home of Rose Ann Williams.

Miss Williams served as hostess with other '63 delegates, Phala Brown, Diane Ellis, Jacqueline Fielding, Carol Taylor, Mary Beth Allen, and Cookie Jones. Sarah Bagley, another delegate last year, was at church camp and unable to attend the party.

The hostesses gave the current Girls Staters information about the camp, sang songs they had learned and showed pictures taken there. Cookies and cold drinks were served for refreshments.

Coming and Going

Leaving last Saturday for St. Petersburg, Fla., were Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Whitworth, who went to see Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirk and Frank Kirk, Jr. before the latter left for six-week training with the ROTC at Fort Bragg, N. C.

1st Lt. Charles Bryan "Jack" Ruggles left last week for a mission in Guam and Japan as part of his work with the Missile Supply Department at Walker AFB, Roswell, N. M. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Ruggles of Shover Springs.

"DEAR ABBY"

COMPULSIVE TALKER!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Is there something wrong with me? Whenever I take a trip on a bus or train, I get into very intimate conversations with the person sitting next to me. I don't know why, but before I know it, I am telling this person my life's story. I've told complete strangers things about myself that I'd never think of revealing to anyone I know. If I ever ran into any of these people again I would die of shame, but I can't seem to help myself once I get going. I am not a child. I am a grown woman who has seen 33 summers. Please don't use my name

TALKS TOO MUCH

Dear Abby: Some people who "talk too much" are reacting to a deeply rooted psychological problem. If you're lucky, it won't hurt you (although it may bore others). Meanwhile, try counting to ten before you start, then talk about some thing besides yourself. You MAY not be that interesting.

Dear Abby: I live in a very small town where everybody knows everybody else's business. After I graduate from high ing and impose fines of up to $100,000 for violations.

The code prohibits advertising that represents cigarette smoking as essential to "social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction."

It also bars advertising in publications or radio and television programs directed primarily at persons under 21.

In announcing Meyner's appointment Sunday, the companies said he would have "complete and final authority to determine whether cigarette advertising complies with the standards of this code and to enforce the code in all its respects."

Meyner said he would not take over his new job until the Justice Department completes a review of the code to determine whether it violates federal anti-trust laws. He declined to discuss his salary.

Tobacco Ads Under Trade Censorship

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Former Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, an "off and on again cigarette smoker," says his job of administering a new cigarette advertising code should be that of a judge, not an image-maker for the tobacco industry.

The code, developed after the U.S. Surgeon General's report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer, establishes uniform standards for cigarette advertising.

Meyner said he would have authority to review all advertis-

Giants Win With Weird First Inning

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

When they come to write Danny Cater's baseball epitaph, they could say simply: "He was an innocent victim of the Great War."

Cater, a 24-year-old Philadelphia rookie, was listed in the starting line-up as batting fifth Sunday when first-place San Francisco edged the second-place Phillies 4-3 in 10 innings. Although seven Phillies came to the plate in the first inning, Cater never made it.

Managers Al Dark and Gene Mauch took care of that.

They perpetrated one of the weirdest innings of the season, moving players in and out faster than James Bond gets into trouble.

Giants' starter Bob Hendley, a southpaw, triggered the strategy battle by hitting Tony Taylor with a pitch, walking Cookie Rojas and giving a run-scoring single to Johnny Callison, the only hit of the inning.

Richie Allen walked, loading the bases and bringing Cater to the plate.

However, before the right-handed hitting Cater could look at a pitch, Mauch pulled him for left-hander Wes Covington. Bolin then went the same way as Cater as Dark brought on southpaw Ken Mackenzie. Mauch, not wanting to run out of outfielders before he got through one inning, let Covington bat.

Dark, however, didn't let Mackenzie pitch too long. After he got Covington on a pop out, he departed in favor of right-hander Gaylord Perry, the fourth Giants' pitcher. By now, observers were beginning to wonder if Dark would have to finish the game with Willie Mays on the mound.

The rest of the inning, though, went relatively fast. Roy Stevens lined a sacrifice fly to Mays for the second run, and Gus Triandos struck out.

After that display of bullpen versatility, Dark apparently took pity on his staff. He brought in just three more pitchers the rest of the way.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati outslugged St. Louis 11-6, Chicago overpowered Milwaukee 5-2, Pittsburgh whipped Houston 6-1 after losing 6-3 and Los Angeles trounced New York 6-1 then played a 1-1 tie when rain washed out the game after five innings.

In the American League, Chicago swept Detroit 8-3 and 2-1, Minnesota stopped Baltimore 5-2, New York overwhelmed Los Angeles 9-3, Boston beat Kansas City 9-5 before losing 8-6 and Washington downed Cleveland 4-3 after dropping a 3-3 decision in 5 innings.

Although Mauch might have won the battle, Dark wound up winning the war. Down 3-0, the Giants rallied in the ninth on Duke Snider's two-run homer and Jim Hart's solo blast. They won it in the 10th as Christ Short walked Tom Haller with the bases loaded, forcing in Chuck Hiller.

Deron Johnson belted five hits in five times at bat and Jhon Edwards clouted a grand slam homer in the first inning for the Reds. Johnson rapped three singles, a double and a home run. Frank Robinson also homered for the Reds while Julian Javier hit two and Charlie James one for the Cardinals.

The Cubs knocked down the Braves with home run power. Ernie Banks and Bill Williams each connected with one on and Andre Rodgers hit a bases-empty blast. Hank Aaron slammed a two-run homer for the Braves.

Vernon Law scattered seven hits as he won his third game against five defeats for the Pirates. He was supported by Bill Mazeroski's three-run inside-the-park homer in the second.

The Colts won the first game with a five-run rally in the ninth. Rusty Staub drove in the tying and winning runs with a bases-loaded single while John Bateman added home run. Until the ninth, Pirates' starter Bob Veale had a three-hitter. He struck out 2, tying a Pittsburgh record for strikeouts in a nine-inning game.

Don Drysdale pitched and led the Dodgers over the Mets in the opener, allowing six hits and driving in two runs with a homer in the third and a sacrifice bunt in the fourth. Smith homered for the Mets. Jim Lickman's home run in the fifth gave the Mets a 1-1 tie in the nightcap.

Travelers on Top in Coast Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas, Indianapolis and Tacoma were the big winners in Pacific Coast League baseball Sunday, sweeping doubleheaders against Salt Lake City, Denver and San Diego.

Arkansas' 6-1 and 7-5 victories over Salt Lake once again gave the Travelers the undisputed lead in the Eastern Division. Indianapolis downed Denver 7-1 and 3-2, and Tacoma stopped San Diego 7-5 and 7-2.

At Honolulu, Spokane beat Hawaii 4-2 in the first game of a day-night twinbill and the second game was suspended in the eighth inning because of curfew with Hawaii leading Spokane 8-6. Scheduled doubleheaders between Dallas and Seattle, and Oklahoma City and Portland were rained out.

John Boozer went the distance in the first game at Little Rock, yielding six hits to Salt Lake. The Bees drew first blood, scoring their first run in the first on a double by Leroy Gregory and a single by Bill Ott.

Adolfo Phillips hit his 13th homer to even the score in the second, and the Travelers iced the game by batting around in the fifth for five runs.

The Travelers won the second game in the fifth inning on three unearned runs. The key hit was a double by Wayne Graham.

Carl Yastrzemski drove in three runs apiece in Boston's first game victory. Bolh homered and Yastrzemski had another circuit in the second game. Dick Williams homered twice for Boston in the second game and Jim Gentile drove in five runs with two homers for the A's in the nightcap.

The A's scored all their runs in the opener on homers with Ed Charles and Bill Bryan each connecting with a man on and pitcher Orlando Pena adding a bases empty shot. Tony Conigliaro had a two-run homer for the Red Sox.

The Twins halted rookie Wally Bunker's winning streak at six games and dropped the Orioles into second place. Baltimore grabbed a quick 2-0 lead but Harmon Killebrew's 65th homer evened things in the second.

Tony Oliva and pitcher Camilo Pascual, who won his eighth, drive in runs to give Minnesota the lead and Bernie Allen's fifth homer closed the scoring.

Bob Chance clubbed two homers for Cleveland but the Indians struggled into the 15th before winning the first game against Washington. Al Smith singled Leon Wagner home to break it up after a walk and a thrower error had put the winning run on third.

Chuck Hinton homered and added two other hits as Washington came back to take the nightcap. Al Koch won it, scattering eight hits including John Romano's seventh homer.

In the National League, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings. Cincinnati smacked St. Louis 6-1, Houston whipped Milwaukee 5-2, Houston split a pair with Pittsburgh winning 6-3 and losing 6-1 and Los Angeles dropped New York 6-1 before rain ended their second game, a 1-1 tie after five innings.

Stephens' hit made a winner of Joel Horlen, who fired a strong three-hitter, allowing just one hit after the first inning and retiring 20 of the last 21 batters he faced.

Dave Nicholson crashed a three-run homer and Pete Ward delivered a clutch single to win the opener. The Tigers had come back to tie it after Nicholson's eighth homer of the season put the Sox on top. A hit batsman and singles by Robinson and Ward pushed the lead run across in the sixth.

Whitey Ford won his seventh straight for the Yankees with home run support from Tommy Tresh and Elston Howard. Ken McBride lost it for the Angels, his 10th setback in 11 decisions. Ford hasn't lost and McBride hasn't won since Opening Day.

The Red Sox and A's had a home run duel with balls soaring into Municipal Stadium's seats. Frank Malzone and ton and Wagner, Cleveland, 43. Hits — Oliva, Minnesota, 78; Hinton, Washington, 66.

Doubles — Oliva, Minnesota, 12; Bressoud, Boston, Mathews, Kansas City, Allison and Rollins, Minnesota and Hinton, Washington, 11.

Alex Johnson homered for the Travelers in the first when they took a 3-1 lead. John Campbell homered in the fourth and doubled in the fifth as Salt Lake went ahead 5-3.

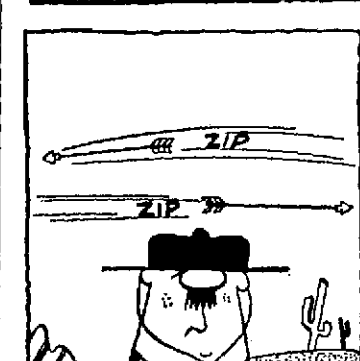

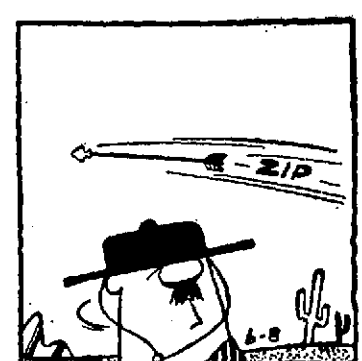

Denver grabbed a 2-0 edge by the third inning of its second game with Indianapolis, but the Indians came back with rallies in the fifth and sixth, climaxed by Marv Staehle's double. Indianapolis led all the way in the first game, aided by two homers by Jim Hicks.

At San Diego, Tacoma broke a Padre winning streak. The Giants opened the scoring with a run in the first inning and led all the way in an afternoon game marked by a third-inning rhabarb. The second game, scheduled for seven innings, was tied at 2-2 until the ninth when Tacoma erupted for five runs.

Bill Kelso held Spokane to four hits in the first game at Hawaii, but the Indians loaded the bases in the ninth and won on a single by Chick Julian. The Islanders capitalized on seven Spokane errors in the nightcap, which will be completed when Spokane makes its next trip to Hawaii.

Associated Press Sports Writer

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—"I saw my wife standing there in the rain on the 8th, and I said, 'Honey, I sure made this thing interesting, didn't I?'"

You might say that. There was Tony Lema, going down in flames in the final round of the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Tournament Sunday. First he held a seven-stroke lead over Mike Souchak with holes to play, and suddenly he was one stroke behind with four to go.

It was building up to be the biggest collapse since the stock market in 1929.

Lema redeemed his pledge to treat the press to champagne when he rapped in a pressure eight-foot putt on the 8th hole for his second straight birdie, and the $20,000 top prize.

The birdie four gave him a final round of 7, one-under par for the short Westchester course and a 72-hole total of 276.

Souchak, who started off as if he was going to have to skip a couple of holes to break 100, finished with 69 for 277 and $2,000 for second place.

Ken Venturi, who had to telephone and ask for an invitation to play in the Thunderbird, and portly Billy Casper finished at 279. Chi Chi Rodriguez and Phil Rodgers were 280.

Big Jack Nicklaus couldn't get going and wound up with a 72 for 282, while Arnold Palmer, the Thunderbird winner last year, was well back at 285.

The Lema-Souchak duel had all the drama. Champagne Tony, who says he is 30, going on 40, from standing over those money putts, had a three-stroke lead on the first tee. Souchak promptly took a double bogey, and Lema's lead was five.

Lema birdied the third, and Souchak made a bogey and now it was seven.

On the short sixth hole, Souchak hit his tee shot over the green into a budding jungle, and it looked as if the tournament was over. But Big Mike, the 7-year-old ex-Duke football player, chipped into the cup for a birdie.

Lema hit a trap on the eighth, and on the ninth he had to crawl under a spreading fir tree and scoop the ball out on his hands and knees.

Now the lead was three strokes. Lema got a birdie at 12, and Souchak made an eagle. Two strokes.

On the par three 4th, Souchak put his tee shot within four feet and Lema struck his in the crowd. "It was a terrible shot," Lema said. "And the chip was bad, and then I three-putted."

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Leading scorers in the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Tournament:

Tony Lema, $20,000 68-70-71-276

PUT A TIGER IN YOUR TANK!

"THE REAL STORY OF THE TORTOISE AND THE HARE..."

NEW POWER-FORMULA ESSO EXTRA GASOLINE BOOSTS POWER THREE WAYS:

1 Cleaning Power! Dirt can clog even a new carburetor in a few months of normal operation—causing hard starting and rough idling. Your very first tankful of New Esso Extra will start to clear away these deposits—in new engines or old—to improve power and mileage.

2 Firing Power! Spark plug and cylinder deposits can cause misfiring, pre-ignition and hot spots. New Esso Extra neutralizes these harmful deposits—to help your engine fire smoothly, to help preserve the power of new cars and restore lost power to many older cars.

3 Octane Power! New Esso Extra has the high octane that most cars now need for full smooth performance without knocking. You'll get all these extras with New Power-formula Esso Extra Gasoline—it puts a tiger in your tank! Happy Motoring!

LBJ Pleased With Showing of Goldwater

By FRAN KCORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The victory of Sen. Barry Goldwater in wind, as it were, seemed to point up the response in the administration camp.

1. Johnson aides, who normally mirror the President's attitudes, declined today to reject California's Republican presidential primary seems to have pleased at least one Democrat—President Johnson.

The chief executive hasn't reacted directly to Goldwater's narrow win over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. However, a couple of straws in the beamed.

2. The President himself took another indirect swipe at Goldwater—something he obviously delights in doing—in a speech Wednesday at New London, Conn. Many observers saw this as further evidence that Johnson would relish an autumn encounter with the Arizona senator.

Before he was assassinated, President John F. Kennedy left little doubt that he wanted Goldwater as his 1964 opponent. He obviously felt he could fare best campaigning against someone who could be counted on to offer voters a sharp alternative to Kennedy policies.

Johnson lieutenants, in private conversations, seemed to leave little or no doubt that the new President, too, would delight in campaigning against Goldwater.

And perhaps the most convincing evidence of this can be found in Johnson's own public remarks.

During the past six months, Johnson has said little or nothing that has been critical, even directly, of such potential Republican opponents as Rockefeller, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Henry Cabot Lodge or Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

In fact, the President has heaped praise on Lodge, the U.S. ambassador in Saigon.

Two Republicans have been placed by Johnson in a somewhat different category. They are Richard M. Nixon, the former vice president, and Goldwater.

In itself, this suggests that Johnson considers Goldwater and Nixon the most promising targets.

In New London Wednesday, Johnson said the United States must have varied strength to meet varied dangers.

He added, pointedly:

"The response must suit the threat. Those who would answer every problem with nuclear weapons, display not bravery but bravado, not wisdom but a wanton disregard for the survival of the world and the future of the race."

Goldwater had recently discussed the possible use of low-yield nuclear weapons to strip the leaves from jungle trees in Viet Nam so Communist guerrillas could be exposed from the air.

And Johnson's statement was reminiscent of those he has made on half a dozen public occasions when he has jibed at Goldwater's suggestion that the United States should have sent Marines to Cuba when water for the Guantanamo Naval Base was cut off.

On several occasions, the President has suggested that Goldwater's proposed response to the water cutoff was most unsuitable to the threat. Johnson has said he found it much wiser to send one admiral to shut the water off by cutting the pipeline than to send in Marines to turn the water on.

A month ago, in Knoxville, Tenn., Johnson jabbed Goldwater on a different front. Talking about 1936 opponents of the Social Security program, the President said, "If those men had had their way, the 'for sale' sign would be on TVA this very hour."

Goldwater had once suggested a "for sale" sign for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In that same Knoxville speech, Johnson also took indirect issue with Nixon. Without mentioning names he scoffed at those who had labeled his anti-poverty program "a cruel hoax."

That phrase had been used by Nixon a week earlier.

On other occasions, the President has found apparent enjoyment in making fun of Nixon—particularly after the former vice president returned from a globe circling tour on behalf of the Pepsi Cola Co. Johnson was quick to suggest that Nixon doubtless had been so busy fostering the best interests of the company that it was doubtful he had really gained much information during visits to such places as Saigon.

Goldwater has been Johnson's target more often than Nixon, however — even in impromptu remarks.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Network television over the past week-end was very good to viewers who like their dramas real.

There was Friday night's special 90-minute "CBS Reports" in which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned to the Normandy beaches where the Allied forces launched their assault on Hitler's Fortress Europe on D-Day 20 years ago.

Sunday there was ABC's live coverage of the exciting windup in the Thunderbird Golf tournament as Tony Lema's final putt broke a tie with Mike Sou-chak and won him top prize money.

there was a meticulous — and painful — account of the literal return to life of a young woman whose broken and burned body was pulled from a Nantucket plane wreck six years ago.

Last summer Gen. Eisenhower, accompanied by Walter Cronkite and a camera crew, went back to the English Channel countryside, now sleepy beach and fields, which two decades ago was the site of the largest amphibious invasion in history.

The former president, commander of the invasion forces, sometimes spoke with a crisp clinical detachment as he explained the principles and theories behind the huge operation. Then he would shift to a more personal vein, recalling an anecdote or explaining his own emotions at moments of decision.

Much of the film showed the general in casual sports clothes, strolling along a sunny beach where children played, or in a crumbling German pill box, or sitting in the war room preserved in an English country house. He responded easily to Cronkite's questions. Interspersed was film shot before and during the invasion.

NBC's "Patient in Room 60" used news film taken at the time of the Nantucket plane crash in August 1958 and interviewed many persons involved in the story of plucky Lita Levine who almost six years ago started off gaily on a summer vacation. Since then she has undergone more than 40 operations and lost all her fingers, but is now launched on a painting career.

The camera lingered overlong on some of the subjects, particularly her highly vocal mother and on the doctors with their cautious phraseology. The most moving portions were when the girl—she is now 23—was telling of her terrible ordeal, often with a touch of wry humor.

Asks Unions to Admit Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson tries today to persuade labor leaders to move faster in opening up union membership and job opportunities for Negroes and other minority groups.

More than 100 top labor spokesmen, including AFL-CIO President George Meany, are expected to attend the conference, called by Johnson to discuss ways to put into effect union pledges against discrimination.

Although the AFL-CIO has repeatedly urged its members to drop all discriminatory bars, the administration reportedly is disappointed at the failure of some unions to practice at the local level what they preach.

Vitality Is Payoff for Goldwater

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Senator Barry Goldwater wins the Republican presidential nomination, to a large extent it's because he showed vitality. Almost without exception other Republican leaders sat back, keeping hands off. Now they're stirred up.

The exception was New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He and Goldwater wanted the nomination and fought for it. None of the others appeared to lift a finger except Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who never had a chance.

No wonder Rockefeller looked sardonically Sunday at some of those others — like Michigan Gov. George Romney and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton—who now suddenly seem disturbed that Goldwater may win.

They showed no concern before when Rockefeller and Goldwater were battling and might ruin each other. Now they do when Goldwater may clinch the nomination before the Republican convention meets in July.

And former Vice President Richard M. Nixon sounds more vigorous about being a candidate.

And former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who said he would express no preference and has kept hands off all these months, now has appealed to Scranton to make himself available for the nomination.

He can say his nudge to Scranton isn't expressing preference, since he had previously said he wanted convention delegates to have a "fair chance to work their will." But nudging Scranton is being more active than he was before.

Scranton himself said last April the nomination should go to someone who fought for it, "rather than someone who sits on the sidelines and gets it in an easy way."

He said he wasn't even stirred up enough about the issues to be a good candidate although he said he would accept a draft. Last week he said he'd be willing, if drafted by the convention, to run for the vice presidency with Goldwater.

He even said he knew of no "basic differences between him" and the Arizona senator. But Sunday, with Goldwater getting closer to a first-ballot nomination, Scranton suddenly said he would be available for the nomination.

"I'm ready to serve," he said. This time he didn't say he'd have to be drafted. But now, also suddenly, he and Romney say they want clarification of Goldwater's views although he's expressed them for months and written three books.

Enterprise Gone, Says Socialist

By JOHN MORGENTHAU

NEW YORK (AP)—Norman Thomas, the old Socialist, says that the only people who practice free enterprise these days are "small boys playing marbles for keeps."

Thomas, 79, has seen government adopt many of the Socialist programs he fought for in six campaigns for the presidency. He says his chief regret is that he won't leave behind a Socialist party with real force in American politics.

Talking about his long career and his ideas for the future, Thomas says, "I've been lucky. No long jail terms, no long illnesses. I've been arrested several times, but I usually won."

"If I had it to do over, I wouldn't do many things differently. I'd do them better."

Thomas was interviewed in the small Manhattan office where he works five days a week. The sign on the door says "Post War World Council," one of dozens of councils, committees and leagues for which he works without pay.

In the lapel of his brown suit was the Order of Solidarity, which the Italian government recently awarded him for his opposition to Mussolini after World War I.

Although slowed down a bit by arthritis and other infirmities of age, Thomas writes two columns a week for the Denver (Colo.) Post, and lectures frequently throughout the country. He's working on a new book to add to the 19 on his office shelves.

He says he could live on his lecture fees, but money left by his wife, who died in 1947, makes things easier for him. "I personally owe something to a system I don't like," he said.

Thomas lives in a hotel room

"I have a feeling," Scranton said, "that the country as a whole is beginning to think he does not" measure up to the principles of the Republican party. This was an ironic statement, coming from Scranton.

The country as a whole would be puzzled to know where Scranton measures up to those principles since his views on anything are widely unknown. It was right here that Rockefeller got in a dig at Scranton and Romney.

He said he'd like to know where Scranton stands and, as for Romney, the New York governor said the Michigan governor had spoken out too late. Romney says he, too, would accept a draft although he intends to run for a second term as governor.

Romney said Sunday that Goldwater has "voiced public views that do not square with the principles for which the Republican party stands." He said he would spare no effort to keep Goldwater from the nomination if his views do not measure up to the needs of the nation and the party.

There's one appropriate question at this point: where were Romney and Scranton all these months while Goldwater was campaigning if they don't know his views?

Nixon seemed to think he was finished after he lost the presidential race in 1960 and the contest for the governorship of California in 1962. He said after this second defeat it was "my last campaign for public office."

In 63 he said he would not under any circumstances accept a Republican presidential draft. But by 1964 he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides."

"The last time he was in prison he was an informant. Now with a kitchenette near his office, and visits a daughter's family on Long Island as often as he can on weekends. He has five children, 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Thomas said he was "happily surprised" with President Johnson's performance. Commenting on the President's "war on poverty," he said, abundance, not poverty, is the big problem. Automation, he believes, will produce plenty without everybody working—a problem neither Karl Marx nor Adam Smith thought of.

"We'll come to a time when you get a grant for being born an American," he predicted. "We'll need re-education. Of course, if we get that society, the people who make and program the machines will be the elite."

Thomas has no plans for more world travel because "it's too much embarrassment to drop dead abroad."

"I keep hoping I'll drop dead though," he said. "Not immediately, you understand. I just don't want people saying, 'That poor old man.'"

"What was that?"

State Peach Harvest to Be Profitable

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Writer

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Tall, tan Lloyd Yarborough, who quit sheriffing to tend his fruit orchards, has developed a system to outwit nature and consistently grow peaches bigger than baseballs.

And this summer, Yarborough and his fellow Arkansas peach producers expect a banner year because of killing frosts in other peach-growing areas in the South.

"Peaches should bring at least $2 million more in Arkansas this year," Yarborough said, "and that's a conservative estimate."

The National Peach Council has estimated that 72 per cent of the peaches in nine southern states are damaged. Yarborough said. Half of the 28 per cent available will already be sold by the time Arkansas producers put out their big volume. "Every day we get calls from the East, wanting peaches," Yarborough said. "We can't take care of all of them."

He said the only area competing with the South's peaches at this time of year is California. Yarborough one of the biggest peach producers in Arkansas with 400 acres of trees in three counties, has found a system for outwitting the weather and turning in good crops every year.

Pests were taken care of by spraying, drought by irrigation. The only big threat left was hail. If a hailstone brushes a young peach, the result is a large, black mushy spot on the side.

"We scattered our orchards and in the orchards we scattered our varieties," Yarborough said. "Hail is almost always very localized. A hail that damages trees in this county won't touch them in the next county."

His Southland peaches, which grow as big as grapefruits, are spread among all his orchards. Even if some are lost to hail, the bulk of the crop is saved. It costs a little more this way, Yarborough says, but in the end

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL Amendment No. 52 (Legislative)

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall have the power to provide by general laws for the establishment and operation (a) of industrial districts for the purpose of securing and developing industry, and (b) of hospital districts for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, reconstructing or extending hospitals. The land boundaries of the respective said districts shall be fixed in the manner provided by the General Assembly.

SECTION 2. The said districts of any industrial district which, together with any tax levied under the provisions of Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution, shall exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof; or (b) of any hospital district which, together with any tax levied under the provisions of Amendment No. 17 to the Constitution, shall exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof, except that, the full said five (5) mills being levied under Amendment No. 17, the said hospital district may levy an additional tax of not to exceed one (1) mill on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in said hospital district. Provided further, that the total taxes levied under this Amendment and under Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in any industrial district shall never exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof, and the total taxes levied under this Amendment and under Amendment No. 17 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in any hospital district shall never exceed six (6) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof.

SECTION 3. To such extent and in such manner as the General Assembly may provide, taxes collected under Amendment No. 32 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in any hospital district shall be used for maintaining, reconstructing and supporting district hospitals.

SECTION 4. The provisions hereof shall be construed as supplemental to all constitutional provisions and legislative acts relating to the subject matters of this Amendment. Filed March 18, 1963.

Churches Endorse an Experiment

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Council of Churches, major Protestant and Orthodox agency, has endorsed an experimental shared-time program under which Roman Catholic children attend both parochial and public schools.

The program is intended to lighten the financial burden on parents whose children attend Church-operated schools.

The council's General Board said in a policy statement Thursday the shared time program is "a viable provision for those who, for conscience sake, maintain separate schools." It is used in 300 schools in 35 states.

The statement noted that increasing costs of education had caused Roman Catholics to ask for public funds for parochial schools and that in general Protestants have opposed the request.

The grower comes out ahead. Arkansas has four major peach-producing areas—near Clarksville, Springdale, Nashville and on Crowley's Ridge around Forrest City.

At a meeting of the Arkansas Peach Council this week, it was brought out that the state might not produce as many peaches as in past years, but that there would be a terrific demand for what it did produce.

The Agriculture Department forecasts this year's Arkansas crop at 1.3 million bushels, compared with last year's production of 1,470,000 bushels and a five-year average of 1,670,000 bushels.

Spring freezes did limited damage to the crop in some areas. The moisture supply was adequate and the peaches are gaining in size. "And the prices are really going to be up," Yarborough said.

The department forecast production in the nine Southern States at 5,275,000 bushels, 72 per cent below last year's crop of 18.7 million bushels.

"We've never had a situation like this in the history of the peach industry," Yarborough said. "This year one bushel of peaches is going to have to take care of what 10 bushels has been doing."

Louisiana expects to do as well as Arkansas, and Southern Georgia and Alabama and South Carolina will salvage some of their crops.

"This is Arkansas' only competition in the South this year," Yarborough said. Most of Arkansas' peaches will be marketed between June 10 and July 25.

Yarborough said he expected his trees to produce 80,000 bushels. Three hundred workers will begin picking next week.

The banner year for Arkansas peach growers could be a shot in the arm for the industry in the state, Yarborough said. "A lot of them got out of the business, but now maybe they'll get back in."

Yarborough was Johnson County sheriff right after the war. He did not run for re-election in 1950 after serving two terms.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL Amendment No. 53 (Legislative)

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. The first unnumbered paragraph of Section 4 of Article 12 of the Constitution is hereby amended to read as follows: "No municipal corporation shall be authorized to pass any laws contrary to the general laws of the State; and, except as otherwise specifically authorized by amendments to the Constitution, no municipal corporation shall be authorized to levy any tax on real or personal property to a greater extent, in any one year, than one per cent of the assessed value of the same."

SECTION 2. Section 9 of Article 16 of the Constitution is hereby amended to read as follows: "Except as otherwise specifically authorized by amendments to the Constitution, no county shall levy any tax on real or personal property to a greater extent, in any one year, than one per cent of the assessed value of the same; provided however, that not less than three-eighths of the amount of any such tax shall, as specified by the county tax levying authority, be used exclusively for the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of roads and bridges in the county, operating and supporting County Highway System."

SECTION 3. Amendments No. 3, 22 and 27 to the Constitution are hereby repealed. SECTION 4. The provisions of this amendment shall take effect on and after November 4, 1964. Filed March 18, 1963.

Americans Have Had Little Choice

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater gets the Republican presidential nomination and runs against President Johnson, voters will get a chance to make a choice that hasn't been given them in years.

It will be a choice between two distinct philosophies of government as represented by the candidates if not exactly by the parties.

The liberalism of Johnson and the conservatism preached by Goldwater, although some consider the conservative label far too liberal for Goldwater.

Even so, the difference between the two men would be so apparent that no one could miss it.

Every four years Democrats and Republicans put on a song-and-dance—a so-called discussion of the issues—which is supposed to point out the difference between the two parties. In reality any difference is hardly visible.

The Democrats and Republicans these days are practically one and the same party and for the same reason. Both have their own batch of liberals and reactionaries but the majority in both are conservatives.

So for years in election after election voters have not really been choosing between parties so much as between individual candidates and then not on issues but on personality.

Three examples tell the story: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, when he opposed Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952, was a national military hero, widely known and highly popular. Stevenson was a likeable man, too, but he had neither Eisenhower's prestige nor fame.

It so happened that Eisenhower was elected on the Republican ticket. But can anyone doubt he would have won just as over-whelmingly if he had run as a Democrat? The same two men went through the same routine again in 1956.

In 1960, there was little difference between the expressed philosophies of John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Kennedy's record in the Senate had been only moderately liberal. Nixon talked the same.

Unfortunately for Nixon, he had a knack of antagonizing people who had never been closer to him than a television screen. And Kennedy, a much more relaxed and friendly figure, won but only by a squeak.

Yet, when Kennedy sent some of his liberal programs to a Congress run by big Democratic majorities in both houses, they got stuck by the conservatives of his own party. Medical care is an example.

This year, at least, even though the two parties retained that same twin-like look, two candidates like Johnson and Goldwater would be definitely different in what they stood for.

If there was that same difference between the parties—one liberal, one highly conservative—the voters could make a far more intelligent choice of the party they wanted to run the government.

If the Goldwater supporters got control of the party—it's unlikely this year—long enough for it to be saturated by their views, the voters in time would have clear-cut choice. But there's also danger in this for Republicans.

If the mood of the country turned out to be far more liberal than Goldwater seems to think—and republicanism becomes synonymous with conservatism in the public mind—it could wreck the party totally or for years.

But at least the nation would get in a Johnson Goldwater fight a chance long missing to show how it feels.

Goldwater as a presidential candidate would have to organize his thinking far better than he has so far while campaigning as a would-be candidate if he is going to present any clear-cut, comprehensible philosophy of government.

Up to now he's been mostly critical of the Democrats with out offering any detailed and constructive program of his own.

The campaigns he and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller put on have been almost incredible from a sober political standpoint. They went in more for pep talks than programs. They didn't talk issues. They talked generalities.

Their whole show was, for those reasons, primitive politics.

hack doing hack work. But to other hacks, I'm a good writer." That is Carl Reiner's analysis of his talents. Majority opinion in Hollywood does not concur. Reiner, onetime second banana to Sid Caesar, has emerged in recent years as the most versatile and successful writer in town.

His status was confirmed at the Television Academy awards, when "The Dick Van Dyke Show," Reiner's creation, took top honors with five Emmies. His first screenplay, "The Thrill of It All," was a top money-maker of 1963.

Reiner also wrote a novel, "Enter Laughing," which was converted into a Broadway hit. Add to this his television and record dates with the "2,000-year-old Man"—Mel Brooks—plus hosting the weekly "Celebrity Quiz" on CBS.

"Look, I've got a way with comedy," he says. "I've got the kind of a mind that if you drop a situation into it, I can come up with a scene that will play and get laughs."

He was especially happy with Dick's selection over four dramatic actors as best series actor. "I'm glad people finally realize the worth of a comedian-actor," he said. "It doesn't happen often; Chaplin never won an Oscar, nor has Cary Grant. Yet what they do is just as difficult as dramatic acting, or more so."

Race Issues Are Cracking Church Walls

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Racial issues are making new cracks in church walls.

Southern Baptists split over segregation and the opponents of an open-door policy won a narrow victory at their annual meeting.

The Methodists took another integration step and Southern Presbyterians ordered another color line erased.

These events of the past few months appear as another side effect of the great social upheaval that burst over the nation last summer.

Coupled with the growing liberalism on racial issues in Southern churches were actions of the Northern Baptists and Presbyterians.

The Rev. Edler G. Hawkins of New York was elected May 21 as the first Negro moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. That is the highest

"We're on top. And no matter who you are, that's when they start to carp and snipe at you. I've told the whole gang to get ready for it. Next year they'll be aiming for us."

office in the church. Churches remain segregated for the most part although all the major groups except the Southern Baptists have adopted nonsegregation policies.

The conservative and locally independent Southern Baptists were narrowly divided on the segregation issue at their meeting. Some churches and all seminaries of the Baptists have non-segregation policies.

Methodist delegates to the general conference of the Church enacted a law that all Methodist delegates must "recruit, employ, utilize and promote without regard to race, color or sex."

The Methodist delegates voted to provide financial aid to members suffering hardship in joining in racial demonstrations.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.—Southern—has ordered its white presbyteries in seven Southern states to absorb three Negro presbyteries, or jurisdictional districts.

"Presbyterian churches are still largely segregated in the South," said Dr. James Patton of Atlanta, executive secretary of the General Council. "But this is just from tradition. The general custom is that if Negroes go to a white church they are welcome."

Roman Catholic churches have encountered no difficulty over Negroes attending predominantly white churches, although parochial school desegregation brought some trouble in Louisiana. Catholic prelates always have had nonsegregation policies. However, there are few Negro Catholics in the South.

Integration has been spotty in Lutheran and in Episcopal churches.

"The Negro people aren't falling over themselves to join white churches," said Dr. Raymond Wood, president of the Southeastern Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

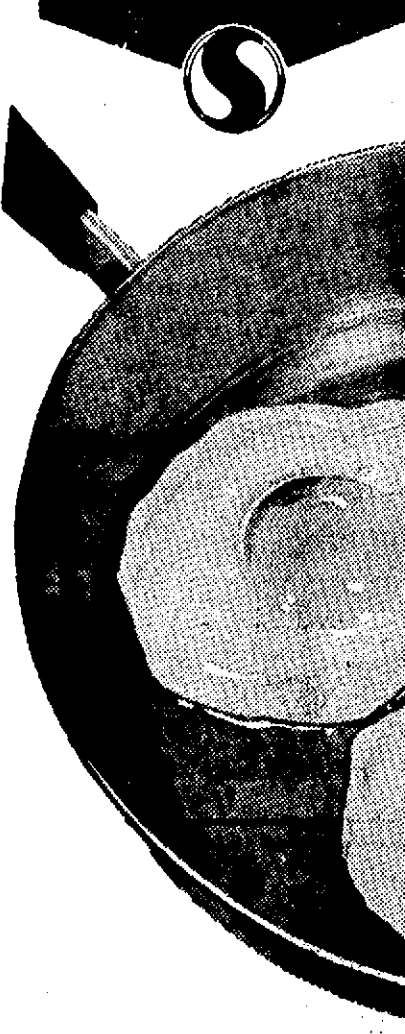

"The churches have an open-door policy, spelled out in great detail in statements by the churches," he said. "Ours is to be restated at the Pittsburgh convention in July."

An Episcopal clergyman, the Rev. Milton Wood, canon of the Atlanta diocese, said there had been dissenters.

"It's resolved as a practical matter," he said, "except in isolated situations."

Jewish synagogues do not practice segregation, said Rabbi Harry H. Epstein of Atlanta. "We are for the rights of all people," he said. He added that there were very few Negroes who have been converted to the Jewish faith.
